C. Dale Badgeley was born in Springfield, Ohio, was graduated from Ohio State University in 1923 with a degree of Bachelor of Architecture. He entered Columbia University in 1924 and was graduated in 1925. After this he worked in the offices of Helmle & Corth, Dennison & Hirons, and Raymond W. Hood, Architects.

Badgeley won the Rome Prize in 1926. During three years, while at the American Academy in Rome, he travelled and studied in various countries of Europe and Africa, France, Spain, Morocco, Algeria, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, Germany, Holland, Belgium and England. He won the "Collaboration Problem" all three years he was at the Academy.

Late this summer Badgeley returned to New York and is now designing in the office of Voorhees, Gmelin & Walker, Architects.

THE CONVENTION

The Convention is the main agency through which the Fraternity becomes a national institution instead of a group of local societies. The Convention is not only the source of legislative and judicial authority but experience has shown it to be the largest source of inspiration and enthusiasm for the Fraternity at large.

The marked resultant improvement to the entertaining chapter each year has caused the Fraternity to adhere to its original plan of rotation among the chapters rather than the selection of a neutral or central location for the meeting.

To those who have been so fortunate as to attend one or more Alpha Rho Chi Conventions it has been a source of great regret that its advantages and pleasures have not been available to so few of our members. The centrally located meeting place for this year's Fifteenth Convention should make it possible for a great many of our active and alumni members to attend what, from every indication, will be one of the finest Conventions which the Fraternity has held.

DINOCRATES SCHOLARS
RANK FOURTH AMONG FRATERNITIES

The University of Texas announced Oct. 1, 1929, the standing of fraternities and sororities for the school year of 1928-29. The Dinocrates chapter ranked fourth among thirty-one fraternities, having 6.11 average. Sigma Alpha Mu, Acacia and Tau Delta Phi were the fraternities above the Dinocrates chapter, Sigma Alpha Mu having 6.36 average. The University average was 5.23.

Homer F. Pfeiffer, Anthemios '25

SOME OF ANTHEMIOS SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

The Rome Prize in Architecture was won by Homer F. Pfeiffer in 1927. The fellowship carried with it an appointment for three years study and travel abroad with an annual stipend of $1,500 and an additional allowance of $300.00 for transportation. During this time he receives residence and studies at the American Academy in Rome. "Sig", whose home is in Kansas City, Kansas, was a former W. A. at Anthemios ('25), and after being graduated from Illinois he took additional work at Yale. While there he placed second to Brother Badgeley, of Demetrios, who won the Rome Prize in 1926. After leaving Yale, "Sig" worked in the office of Walker & Gillette in New York until he won the 1927 competition and left for New York.

Rome. The subject of the problem in 1927 was the design of a Museum Building for a small city. Pfeifer was back in this country for a while this summer on business. He has one more year to spend at the Academy, where he has company, for
The Rome Prize in Landscape Architecture for 1929 was won by Charles R. Sutton, Anthemios '26. He has the same sort of appointment as that in connection with the Rome Prize in Architecture. His competition was a development of “An Island Estate.” “Chuck” Sutton, Ottawa, Ill., was graduated from the University of Illinois in Architectural Engineering in 1921, and then started all over again in the Landscape course. After being graduated a second time in an architectural course, he worked in the office of Ferruccio Vitale in New York. We received a letter from Sutton recently, and he is busy getting established in his studio quarters. He expects to have a visit soon with
The winner of the Francis J. Plym Fellowship in Architecture in 1929, William P. Crane II, Anthemios '28. His problem was the design of an aquarium. The fellowship is for $1,200.00 and is to be used for the expenses for one year's travel in Europe to study Architecture. It is offered to the graduates of the department of Architecture of the U. of I. Crane is now in Rome visiting Chuck on the start of his tour.
The same scholarship was won by E. V. Gauger, Anthemios '29, in 1925. After a successful trip E. V. came back to work for I. E. Reaum & Cline office in St. Louis. While there he won quite a name for himself as designer and delineator. Just last week we received a formal notice of his opening an office Nov. 15, 1929 in the Louderman Building, St. Louis, with Mr. W. H. Smith in partnership.
The Plym Foreign Scholarship in Arch. Eng. was won by R. J. Pfeifer, Anthemios '24, in 1925. This scholarship is identical to the one in Arch except that it is for the study of Arch. Eng. “Rube” came back and after floating around a while finally filled a bill for a good design man with Donaldson Co. of Indianapolis, where he is now the head of their design department.
The Edward L. Ryerson Traveling Fellowship in Arch. for 1929 was won by Otis Winn Anthemios '29. This honor is awarded to one Architect and one Landscape student from a group of 16 picked students who have been sent from four different architectural schools in this middle west to study in collaboration at the Lake Forest Foundation during the summer after their graduation. It provides $125.00 for a year's study in Europe. At present Winn is in Rome probably getting the lowdown from Anthemios brothers Sutton and Crane. These men were all in the active chapter at the same time.
The Allerton American Traveling Scholarship for the summer of 1929 was awarded to Bro. Buford L. Pickens, Anth. '30 the present W. A. of the active chapter. This scholarship provided $400.00 to two juniors in the department of Arch. to travel during the summer in the New England Region of early American Architecture. The investigations and sketches were made similar to a foreign scholarship. Bro. Pickens is back in school now helping to make ready for the big fifteenth annual Convention.

JUBILEE CONVENTION TENTATIVE PLANS
R. W. Crain, Jr.

Christmas holidays will soon be here and with them the Fifteenth Annual Alpha Rho Chi Convention. With everything in the process of development for making this coming convention the biggest and most successful of any, Anthemios divulges some of her plans.

Before giving any idea of the program, there is one thing which should be impressed upon the minds of all delegates, and that is that they should arrive early! Therein lies the secret for the success of this undertaking. The days scheduled for the actual convention are packed full of business and for this reason an early arrival will facilitate plans.

For a starter, Saturday night should be looked upon by the delegates as the dead-line for pulling into Champaign. Sunday, it is planned to make an extensive tour of the University buildings and campus. This should be of interest to all delegates, as Illinois is one of the largest universities in the country. Sunday evening is the time scheduled for the Annual Stag Banquet, the time when "all good fellows get together." Arrangements are being perfected to make this dinner something that will linger in the memories of those present.

OHIO STATE SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

The Ohio State University, Oct. 30, 1929, announced the scholastic standing of all fraternities on the campus, including both social and professional. Kappa Phi Kappa placed first, having 285 points. The Demetrius Charter held seventeenth place, having 227 points. Seventy-four chapters were included in this list, the charter ranking last having 1.71 points.
PROFESSIONAL INTERFRATERNITY CONFERENCE
CONVENTION IN CHICAGO
NOVEMBER 29 and 30

The annual convention of the Professional Interfraternity Conference will be held in Chicago at the Edgewater Beach Hotel on Nov. 29 and 30, 1929.

The tentative program includes an address by Dr. Don Rogers, "Growing Professionalism in Education." J. D. Sparks, Editor and General Secretary of Alpha Kappa Psi, will speak on "The Publication of a Fraternity Magazine." Mr. Fred H. Turner, Assistant to Dean of Men, University of Illinois, will speak on "The Common field of General and Professional Fraternities in advancing the principles for which both stand."

A few of the problems to be discussed are: combating "mail order" fraternities, campus co-operation, local interfraternity relations, and standards and classifications for professional fraternities.

The Field Museum has extended a special invitation to members of the Conference and guests to visit the Museum on Sunday.

SWEETHEART SONG
WINNER ANNOUNCED

Dwight P. Ely's song, "The Rose of Alpha Rho Chi," was selected by Brother Phillips and his committee as the prize song submitted in the "Sweetheart Song" Competition.

The prize, as voted by the last assembled convention, is ten dollars. The prize song is reproduced in this issue.

FRATERNITY HAND BOOK

Last fall all chapters were sent revised pages for their chapter copies of the Fraternity Hand Book. The fact that many chapters and especially Archi correspondents have not paid strict attention to these revised pages is revealed by the reports received. All reports should be typewritten and two copies of each should be sent to the Archi Editorial Office. The Andronicus and Anthemios chapters are the only ones that submitted correct reports. In fact, some chapters reports were written in long hand.

Keep the Fraternity Hand Book easily accessible and use it frequently in all fraternity business.

HOLD MEETING

The regular meeting of the Iktinos Building Association of Alpha Rho Chi was held Nov. 10, 1929, at the chapter house. The election of directors for next year was held. All members not able to attend were requested to sign and return the proxies sent them.

A meeting of their Board of Directors was held immediately after the meeting of the Association.
Editor's Mail Box

Andronicus—So. California

In the last issue Roswell T. Allison, '26, wrote that he had hopes of moving back to Los Angeles. This month's mail brought the news of his promotion to a position selling the company's products in Southern California outside of Los Angeles County. Allison's new address will be c/o Gladding, McBean & Co., 621 S. Hope St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Harold I. Glascoe, Ex '31, verifies his address along with an ideal testimony for more letters unsolicited. Glascoe writes that he has been out of school since last February and up until now had not been back to the chapter house. The October Archi has renewed the old spirit which he had while in school.

Iktinos—Michigan

Raymond J. Whitney, '12, sent in his check for life membership last month. George L. Richardson, '16, a charter member of the Iktinos chapter, sent in an interesting photo for publication in the Founders' Day Issue. Richardson is associated with Estes W. Mann, Architect, in Memphis, Tenn.

Mnesicles—Minnesota

Harold R. Peterson expects to be in the Twin Cities for the winter working in the office of the Northern Pacific Railroad in place of his usual field job with the company. "Pete" spent the greater part of the summer in one of the Northern Pacific company hospitals in Missoula, Montana, where he was taken for a major operation.

Welcome

by The Old Timer

Does your chapter know what "welcome" means? The O. T. has seen chapters which had the real 'old-time hospitality and others which apparently never heard of it. Does your chapter make the stranger feel at home? Does it extend a cordial welcome to the visiting brothers, even though the score was all wrong? Is the alumni (and wife) taken into the chapter family when he calls at the house or attends a dance, or is he left in the cold to entertain himself? Hospitality is a distinguishing characteristic of true gentlemen and your chapter is missing an opportunity if it fails to teach its members the art of a graceful and sincere welcome.

Demetrios—Ohio State

Paul Markey, '15, a charter member of Demetrios, writes, "still filling the daylight hours in the office of Abram Garfield. Seven years now and still like it. Of course someday may pioneer some more."

Robert W. Sterrett, Ex '29, was married last spring to Miss Ida P. Sloan, a graduate of Ohio State University. The Sterretts are now living at 133 Twelfth Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Anthemios

The Anthemios chapter will act as host to the delegates and all members of the Fraternity assembled for the Fifteenth "Jubilee" Convention.

It is indeed most fortunate that one of the mother chapters of Alpha Rho Chi has the honor of entertaining the Fraternity. The members of Anthemios chapter always have been leaders in everything pertaining to Alpha Rho Chi. Their annual record of the last fifteen years could well be a model for the other nine chapters.

Harold L. Parr

The success to date of our Fraternity has been due in large measure to the efficient Worthy Grand Estimators Alpha Rho Chi has been fortunate in having. Our present W. G. E. is no exception to the above.

The Fifteenth annual convention will choose the Worthy Grand Estimator for the next three years. Harold L. Parr is a man whose past record speaks best of his capabilities for this Grand Council office.

Traveling Exhibition

The New York Alumni chapter has worked hard to put across a traveling exhibit of work by Alpha Rho Chi men. At several conventions chapter delegates have proposed this idea and chairmen have been appointed to sponsor such an exhibition. But a year would pass and the next convention would receive a report that the assigned chapter had been unable to work up enthusiasm, and so the matter had been dropped.

The New York Alumni chapter has gone further, and all it needs now is the actual cooperation of each active chapter in order to assemble its exhibit and forward it to New York city.

The idea of an exhibition was suggested last spring by our Master Architect, Cass Gilbert. To let this exhibition fail as past ones have will show a lack of appreciation for our honored member.

Each chapter has in its files correspondence telling where and to whom to send the material. Every chapter member is enrolled in an architectural department, belongs to an architectural fraternity, and expects to make architecture his life work.

If anyone should suggest that the design problems executed by your men were unworthy of exhibition, there probably would be a big argument. Is it a case of let John do it? Can we with the New York Alumni chapter at once and tell it you are backing the exhibition to the extent that by December 15 you will send all the material it can use. Worthy Architect, check the men assigned to this job and see that your entry in the exhibit is shipped before the holiday vacation.

Come Back, Old Grads

The Grand Council and the convention committee invite all members to the Jubilee Convention to be held in Champaign December 30 and 31 and in Chicago January 1. Come for the entire session or as many days as you can. This is the first time in fifteen years an effort has been made to assemble other than delegates and local alumni, the old-timers and our present active members. A day or two vacation during the holiday season in Champaign will arouse some old forgotten memories.

Convention Reports

At the last convention at least three chapters were assigned special reports or investigations which they were to study during the year and report fully at this current convention.

Will your chapter, if you were included among those assigned for special reports, submit a complete detailed paper on your special subject at the time these reports are called for by the convention president? If the Grand Council must do the bulk of the Fraternity's work and the conventions become more and more a social gathering, why is it necessary to hold conventions annually?
THE ROSE OF ALPHA RHO CHI

WORDS AND MUSIC BY OWIGHT P. ELY

1. When the shadows fall o'er the chapter hall And the sun sinks in the west, Then we friends I loved so well, I can

2. Tho' the years have taken me far away from the still see the light of the fire-side bright Of the one we love the best dwell:

   sing by the light of the fire-side bright Where sweet songs of memory dwell.
CHORUS.

Singing by the firelight Songs of fraternity,

Dreaming by the firelight Of a girl who's dear to me.

She's fair as the white rose And I'm hoping bye and bye: That she'll be the sweetheart of my dreams—the rose of Alpha Rho Chi.

CHAPITERS

Editor’s Note: The assigned special report for this issue is, “Scholarship and Competition Winners.” Many of the chapters do not have a good record of past members who have been the winner of a major scholarship award. Therefore these reports are not as complete as they are worthy of being. The Anthemos chapter winners may be found elsewhere in this issue.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

ANTHEMIOS

K. W. Crain

Anthemos has had a very busy time all fall. A couple of weeks after the start of the semester, we had a smoker for all freshmen and new men registered in Architecture, Architectural Engineering, and Landscape Architecture. Art Purdy, our social chairman, arranged the program which consisted of songs, contests, and eats. The smoker had been very well advertised, and as the result, we had a large group of new men turn out. Our faculty members were of course with us.

The week-ends of Homecoming and the Illinois-Army game brought us a big bunch of alumni, friends, and relatives. We always look forward to these times when we can see some of the old gang, and get together for a good time. All of us were pretty proud of the way Illinois beat the Army 17-7.

The seniors spent the week ending November 2nd in Chicago on the annual Senior Engineering Inspection Trip. The days were very strenuous and we managed to have a good time in the evenings. Several of us had a very pleasant time at the Alumni Chapter dinner in the Hotel Roosevelt. H. Elder and L. Holmes, who were in charge of the Arch Engineers, gave little talks, and spoke highly of Alpha Rho Chi.

A couple of weeks ago, the boys got the radio urge, so we just took up a collection and bought one. The immediate purchase was made possible through the help of Brother Chapman’s father.

“It’s an ill wind that doesn’t blow somebody some good.” The boys have been enjoying some free smokes lately on account of Brothers Harman, Keck, Bowen, and Rutledge giving their pins away. Incidentally, we have as yet to hear from a couple.

By the way, we just got a card from Brother Otis Winn who is just starting out on his Ryerson Traveling Scholarship. He says that everything on the voyage over is just what it is cracked up to be. Otis will be glad to hear from any of his friends. His address is in care of the American Express Co. in Rome, Italy.

We wish to announce the marriage of Miss Velma Marie Mathews to Brother H. Evert Kineaid, ’28.

Mr. and Mrs. James Aubrey Boyd, ’25, Eldorado, Arkansas, announce the arrival of Lola Gretchen at their home. Right now we are all excited about our Beaux Arts Ball which will take place November 15th. We have the best campus band booked, and we’ll all be there with our smocks, tams, or any other costume that might represent our art. The decorations are under way and we all expect to have a keen time.

November 23rd Illinois plays Ohio at Columbus. Some of the more fortunate ones will make the trip which has as a big attraction a dance at the Demetrios Chapter. We’ve been to their dances before, so those who can’t go know they will be missing a darn good time. Thanks, Demetrios, for the bids.

IKTIONIS

Lyde F. Zisler

Any student from the University of Michigan studying in the College of Architecture and in direct line of descent is eligible for the Booth Traveling Scholarship. Provisions are that the students competing shall be unmarried and between the ages of 21 and 30. The scholarship offers $1200 to be used in study abroad.

In 1925, Iktonis took all three places awarded by the jury of this scholarship. Kenneth C. Black, who won the first prize for that year, is now in New York City working in the offices of James Gamble Rogers. Ken is still bachelor and apparently lives at the Shelton Hotel in New York.

LeRoy Kieffer, second prize winner in 1925 and first place ’26, has at last realized his desire to “do” Europe—out of how much we don’t know, but he is probably being dissuaded by his bride—for this particular visit to the other side was honeymoon for Roy and his new wife.

Again, on the other hand, Livingston H. Elder, third medalist for 1925, is still a hard worker out West in Billings, Montana. Elder writes to the effect that the Rockies in summertime are a trifle more interesting than the Huron hills and insinuates to us more eastern martyrs that July and August in the Arch building that Billings is a wonderful place for a summer vacation. Brother Elder also took second prize in 1926 and went to Lake Forest Academy.

He is now a designer for Chandler C. Cohagen ’15.

Verne Siddam, second medalist ’28, and Bill Ralphston, who went to Lake Forest Academy also in ’28, are both working in Detroit for architectural firms. Verne is with J. I. Van Dice, and Bill spends his time with Malcolmson and Higenbothem.

The Harvard game seems to be the paramount issue right now, but for several darned good reasons we can’t wax enthusiastic or even venture a reasonably safe prognostication,—we heard a certain funny radio announcer covering a certain game at a certain stadium down in Illinois use that word “prognostication” several times among lots of other rather pointed cracks, so we found a dictionary and looked it up to see if by any chance it made sense—anyway, we’re using it correctly, believe it or not, and we wish to be quoted that way. We are not prophesying anything about this here now Hava’d game which is all over by now anyway,—al’lo we do know a rather good joke about a gentleman from Harvard.

Anyway, rushing is over at last it appears. Out of the melee we pledged two saxophones, a piano, and a former operatic tenor, which is only one-fourth of what we firmly believe to be twelve of absolutely the finest bunch of boys on the Campus. All of these men, musical as the aggregation may sound, have prepared for architecture while still in high school and apparently appear to be doing very well over in the Arch school so far, all of which proves that even some architects may have music in their souls. We say “some” with much sense of bittersweet soul, because the shower room, very near our study, is still the scene of impromptu morning and evening recitals of doubtful taste and still more doubtful merit.

The Ohio State came to Ann Arbor and celebrated Columbus Day October 12th, as is the custom, but October 19th, Ohio State merely stayed for the day, however, which was all that was necessary as we sorrowfully noted as we left the stadium. Incidentally, the Ohio team does not practice deferred rushing. However, some of the good lads from Demetrios stayed by us and helped to make the dance during that disastrous week end very much of a success. We had a fine large evening; the music was good—the crowd was good—and everyone went to bed happy after an evening of dance and festive drinking. The party idea of the pledges, and we believe it was fitting.

It certainly was a pleasure to see so many of the old timers and not-so-old pledges of ours would be a stimulant for anyone’s eyes.

The front lawn,—perhaps we had better introduce our new front lawn. To the old timers, the lawn in question is now where the old house football field was, and apparently had been, for generations. Some of the men from last spring’s pledge class did a little intensive repair, excavation, and seeding on the old football site during those warm May evenings last spring when it was too hot to sleep anyway. When we came back this fall, the aforementioned tract was and remained to be the pride and glory of Madison Avenue.
THE ARCHI

And Garm, ah yes, Garm—whose maiden name, if you may be pardoned because Garm is of the male sex is Garmilillo Alpharhoche, sometimes called "Grim," and sometimes other things, is our Great Dane—which is a dog—just so you won't confuse him with the nationality of one of our pledges. Garm is just exactly 14 months old and has long since passed the Chi Psi's dog "Rum," which was Garm's big brother of Ann Arbor's exclusive dog society. Among some of his other peculiar attainments, Garm now holds the honorary H. O. C. degree. Higher Dog on Campus." Garm is also a collector of some note. While strolling the other night, he ran down a clean freshly laundered towel from the Pi Phi's back porch and dutifully brought it back to the house to a certain brother in the fireplace room whose laundry hadn't come from home anyway.

This term finds Sanger Brown, Sheldon A. Ely, and Harold J. Rouse back among the actives. Incidentally, Spud Ely is looking fine, and apparently bigger and better than ever after his illness. We overheard that Brownie got reckless once this summer and declared that for two cents he would come back to school this fall. Someone got sporting with his money, so now we have Sanger back with us again after a three-year's absence.

Big Dick Outcalt, prominent "smoothy" from Cleveland, is very much in our midst again after a term's absence. Dick is our new W. A. succeeding Buster Cummings, who is taking advantage of some valuable experience in Detroit this semester. Rouse is teaming up with little Ollie Steinbaungh this quarter. Rouse was away from school a semester, whereas Don has probably been around here since Iktinos was Sigma Upsilon.

Among our latest flashes, we wish to announce that Dick Outcalt, Wayne Meade, and Martin Frisell have been elected to Tau Sigma Delta, honorary architectural society. This brings the total of the house brains to six, as Jack Williams and Jim Lendrum were elected last spring, and Spud Ely received his key the year before. Incidentally, while we're on the subject of honors, Roland Yaeger, one of our pledges, has been elected to Alpha Epsilon honorary musical society. We believe this distinction is unique for this house. And now we do put away our typewriter contrivance and say anon to bed.

MNESICLES
Milton V. Bergstedt

Mnesicles chapter has always given scholarship its due consideration in the selection of new men, and we make it a policy of our members never to pledge a man at least until after mid-quarter when we have an opportunity to look up his scholastic status. As a direct result we have had our full share of men elected to Tau Sigma Delta. Within the last five years Alwin Rigg, Walt Kendall, Ken Backstrom, Sid Stolte, Al Flegel, and Glynne Shifflet have been awarded this honor.

The Annual Moorman Prize affords a three weeks traveling scholarship and during the ten years that it has been offered our men have won it six times. This fall we had David Listener, Jesse Liss, and Geo. Freeberg, 23. The Alpha Alpha Gamma Prize, which annual award is in architectural books, was won by Joe Cerny, 29, and by Stew Leach, 27. Numerous other architectural prizes of a smaller nature have been won by our men.

Other Mnesicles men who have recently distinguished themselves are Geo. Frasor, 19, who just returned from abroad where he held the Prix de Rome. Eddie Hilen, 23, was runner-up in the Paris Prize Competition of a few years back and now is working in large New York office. Emil Backstrom, 24, was just recently awarded the Le Brun Traveling Scholarship and is now presumably abroad. John Grisdale, an associate member, was recently judged 11th place in the international competition of the Columbus Memorial. He is now in the office of Mellor, Meigs & Howe. Several other of our men have also won big honors, but records of such are not available at this time.

I know that everyone in Mnesicles chapter of Alpha Rho Chi is mighty glad to be back here in school again this fall. At the present time we have 27 active members. Of our last year's active chapter, Scotty McCrea is the only graduate not back this year, and we hope that he will be back with us again soon. Among associate members who are active again this fall are Earl Bedlow, who had been away from school a year ago and is working for his Dad in Huron, S. Dak.; Ed Barber is back in school again this year and with his help we hope to win the Inter-Mural basketball championship. Howie Danford is also back. He is only taking a single subject but expects to be regular again soon. Morrie Franzen is now another common face about the house. We have not seen a great deal of him the past year, although he did manage to get back here in the city for an occasional chapter house party. We are also glad to have with us again Harold Fridlund, Chester, who was recently awarded the "Friday.

Among other things he still gets in his regular session of bowling. Dick Robinson is the sixth of our former associate members now active and we are all glad that he is back.

Seven of our men graduated last year and all of them seem to be getting along very well. Dud Bayliss, our last W. A., spent part of the summer enjoying a trip through the East. He was the winner of the Moorman Traveling Scholarship which is the biggest award and honor in our school. The remainder of the summer he spent here in Minneapolis. He is now teaching at the North Dakota State College, Dept. of Architecture, in Fargo. Turbo Jones is also teaching there. Although Leach was working in Minneapolis this summer, his mind and heart have been down in Fairbault. He just married Miss Helen Shirk whose home was also in Fairbault, and after a short trip they are making for St. Paul. In Fairbault, Leach and his friends are now working out in Spokane where he seems to like it very much. His address is U 1200½ First Ave, Spokane, Wash., and anyone that gets out that way should be sure to look up Lyle, as he is a mighty fine chap. Redmond, like Santo and Glynne Shifflet, has remained in this city. Red and Louie are still living at the chapter house. They tell us that it is only their love of the fraternity that keeps them here, but our suspicions suggest something else. We are expecting to receive a few boxes of cigars in the near future when the notable event finally arrives. Glen Yount, who was graduated as an architectural engineer, is now working for a contractor in Waupon, Wis. Our number is down a little this fall, but we hope that even though we cannot see them very often personally, we at least get a nice brotherly letter from them every now and then.

It is interesting to note when we all get back here to school again what all the brothers have been doing during the summer months. The occupations vary from laying bricks to designing insane asylums and their places of occupation from Muskegon, Mich. to Denver, Colo., and from Canada to the Southern States. I had the pleasure of working right next to my brother, Anthemos, 28, for part of the summer while in the office of the Illinois State Architect. Several of our men tell of meeting brothers from other chapters in various parts of the country, and it certainly gives one a fine feeling when after meeting these apparent strangers we find them to be friendly brothers.

As yet this fall we have not done a great deal in a social way. On Oct. 12th we had our annual "Fall Opener" at the chapter house and everybody enjoyed the party. Our next party will be at Homecoming on Nov. 16th, when Minn. meets Mich. We all hope that some of the Iktinos men will be able to make the trip here and enjoy the party with us after the game. On the evening before we will have our traditional Homecoming Banquet when we want to see every old grad back again.

At Minnesota no fraternities except professionals are allowed to pledge new men until the winter quarter. We generally do not pledge men until late in the fall quarter when we know the freshmen pretty well and have had an opportunity to notice their scholarship. On Oct. 25th we had a freshman smoker at the house when every active brought at least one freshman over. Being very informal, we find it a good method of getting acquainted with the newer men. Everybody had a fine time that night except that with the pretzels we had no beer. The alumni also had a meeting that evening and so we all visited together.

The chapter was recently pleased to accept the radio set from Russ Williams, one of our new men. Now when Minnesota plays out of town games we all gather at the house and listen to the games. Dean Boyce besides carrying a full program and managing the house, is out for football. We are all pulling for him and expect to see him in Minnesota's Champion Eleven any of these days. Bob Cerny, who is the agent for architectural publications at school, has been working hard with the chapter in developing our house library. We now have a good start and possess several valuable volumes which are not in the school library.

ANDRONICUS
Lawrence W. Gentry

During the summer the chapter leased a house at 2621 Menlo, and shortly before school started, we moved into our new home. We are well-settled by now, and find this house a great improvement over the other one. The neighboring environment is better, as there is a professional dental fraternity across the street, making a "professional fraternity row." The house is much larger and roomier, and there are now 15 men living here besides the housekeeper and a houseboy. The chapter has started the year with a new house, new officers, new spirit, and is looking forward to the best year so far for Andronicus.

Five of the brothers were fortunate in being able to see Europe this past summer. Thorne, Robinson, Erickson, Fry and Hayings were the lucky ones. They went on a tour sponsored by the school of Architecture. They were accompanied by Bros. Baldwin and Dean Weatherhead, faculty members, and they all reported having a good time and learning a great deal. More of us hope to go next summer.

Leland Thorne, 29, is now studying at Columbia University, on a scholarship. He reports very favorably of the University and we are expecting great things of him. His address is 312 Hartley Hall, in care of the University.

Curts Chamber left the fair Hawaiian Isles this summer, and came to the mainland for a fairer bride. He is working in the office of Marston & Maybury, 25 So. Euclid St., Pasadena, Calif. Leland is also left Salt Lake City for the Southland and a bride. He is working for Warner Brothers Studios in Hollywood Rowland Crawford was another victim of Dan Cupid this summer. Happy voyage upon the Sea of Matrimony for them all.

The active chapter held an open house and smoker for the alumni early in October, and aroused new interest in the fraternity. Pictures, beer, pretzels, skits, stories, and music were plentiful, and a great get-together was held.

Marvin Connell and Charley Brown are back in school and fraternity this year after a year's absence. Charlie is handling the pledges, while Marvin and Kirk Martin are the Art Editors of the Wampus, the university humor publication.

Herbert Pratt, our Worthy Architect, mysteriously disappeared from the house one week-end, and then finally returned with six trout and a big fish and duck story. He brought the trout as evidence, but strangely enough, he had another dinner engagement that night when we had the fish for dinner.

There have been some fine football games this year. On Nov. 2nd, the team meets the University of California in the Los Angeles Coliseum, in what promises to be another great game. The chapter is giving a house dance the evening of this game. According to Norval Diamond, the social chairman, it will be one of the best house dances the chapter has had for a long time. It will be informal and the enthusiasm after such a football game should put them over with a bang.

During week end of Oct. 26th the house was deserted except for a couple of unfortunate brothers listening to the radio and wearing their rooters caps. They were tuned in on the big game with Stanford at Palo Alto. The rest of the chapter was at the game having a good time, but it seems that none of them could have had a better time. The highways, airways, railways, and ocean ways were packed with Southern California students. A great school spirit!

PAEONIOS—K. S. A. C.
Howard E. Martin

Owing to the fact that in the Department of Architecture no awards have been given until just the last year or so, we do not have many winners in the chapter.

In the competition of "A Bell Tower" given two years ago, Eugene Van Vranken won first prize and Leslie Willie won second prize.

Louis Cortes last year won a special competition given by W. H. Jansen.

In both his freshman and sophomore years, Howard Martin won first prizes given by the faculty.

This year, for the first time, projects in our department of Architecture are being sent to the Beaux Arts School for judgment.

Our annual Homecoming dance was held Oct. 22nd. From all appearances it was considered the best house party we have had for sometime. A large number of old grads were back.

We held open house Oct. 23rd for the Beta Pi Alpha Sorority from seven to eight o'clock. According to several of the boys, the dance did not last long enough.

Another Paeonios man, Leo Reed, was hit by cupid's arrow. The big occasion came off Oct. 26th. Irene Compton, of Manhattan, was the lucky lady. They went on the boat together immediately for Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on their honeymoon.

Howard Gregory came back to college with his pin missing. Alice Peppiatt is the lucky one.

The Paeonios chapter has the drum major of the K. S. A. C. Band as a member. Carl Olson now holds that position.

DINOCRATES
G. B. Carter

Brother Carl Olson writes that he is now with the McKee Construction Co. of El Paso. In 1928, Brother Carl won the Portland Cement fellowship, enabling him to do graduate work and research last year. Brother Olson says he likes his work fine and is in good line for advancement. Luck to you, Brother Carl.

In a competition in Junior design, Brother Carter won a second medal, the highest award, and Brothers Cato and Spinks were placed with first mention.

Brother George Harker is with us again taking his leave of absence from the office of Russell E. Clinton, New York, and spending his time with his brothers in the balmy South. Brother Harker has been actively associated with the New York alumni chapter. He brings the report that Brothers Arthur Klein and Gerald Deener are infatuated with cosmopolitan New York and are progressing rapidly.

Brother Paul Pressler is with us again after working last year with Homer Fry, a landscape architect of San Antonio. Brother Pressler expects to get his degree in design this current year.

At a recent initiation six men were brought into the chapter. All were deeply impressed with the seriousness and beauty of the ritual and were loud in their praise of the manner in which the brothers put it over. Dinner was served afterward.

On November ninth Brother Malcolm Simons, of San Antonio, will be our guest as inspector. A dance in honor of the newly initiated, Brother Williams, a football game, and a smoker is the order of the entertainment. We shall be honored indeed to have Brother Simons spend two or three days with us at the chapter house.

At the beginning of the year, we moved into our present house at 2407 Whitis and like the change very much. The present house is more conveniently arranged and close to the campus. We now have 16 brothers in the house and all like the present house much better.
New rules have rather hindered our rushing activities as no one can be rushed or pledged until he is eligible for initiation. However, after the first semester, we expect to get a fine bunch of pledges who will soon become active members. We have already pledged Wallace Hazelwood and Travis Shaw, both of Canyon.

POLYKLITOS—CARNEGIE

Edward H. Robb, Editor.

The chapter of Polyklitos has a very fine scholastic standing this year. They are looking forward to big things as for competition winners, we hope they will be the best break this year. Brothers Allendorf and Boccia were in Europe this summer, and from all reports they enjoyed themselves immensely. Brother K. D. Jones has a regular position on the teaching staff this year. Brother Wiseman, 28, is again teaching at Penn State. When we get together it is not for a dance: it is for a big meal. We are all looking forward to a dinner and an evening of entertainment. There have been no recent marriages; consequently we have no births to report.

PLEDGES DROPPED

The W. G. E. should be promptly notified when the chapters drop names of pledges from their rolls. Use Form E-2.

ACT NOW

This is the last Sample Copy to Non-Subscribers.

For the last four issues we have sent sample copies to all fraternity brothers. You haven't been bothered by form letters, telephone calls or telegram, but we have sent you an actual copy of our article we are trying to sell to let you judge for yourself. The directory issue published next May 1st alone is worth the price of your life subscription. We have about 300 non-lifers now. 75 new subscriptions would be a great help and are needed badly. A former member remarked recently, "This life subscription is something I mean to take care of for a long time, but it is just one of those things so easily put off. Besides, all these sales propaganda has gotten under my skin a little." We answer again that this is the last issue with which we'll bother either the lifers or the non-lifers with our campaign for subscriptions.

Sign the slip on next page and mail to the Archi Business Manager if you would like to keep in active touch with your chapter and your Fraternity.
