Foundation Receives Tax-Exempt Status

The Grand Council of Alpha Rho Chi Fraternity and the Board of Directors of the Alpha Rho Chi Foundation are very pleased to announce that notice has been received from the IRS that the Foundation's status as a tax-exempt organization has been approved. Effective retroactively to November 30, 1989, all contributions to the Foundation are tax-deductible by any and all donors.

The Foundation’s Board of Directors has established a goal to collect $250,000 in cash gifts, pledges and bequests by the end of 1991. A more immediate goal of $50,000 by December 31, 1990 has been set by the Board in order to begin funding programs prior to the conclusion of this school year.

The 1990 deadline is VERY rapidly approaching, so you have only a few days left to make your 1990 TAX-DEDUCTIBLE donation to the Alpha Rho Chi Foundation. In recognition of the extra effort put forth by any alumni and corporations who contribute before the end of this year, a list of Charter Members will be published in the Foundation’s upcoming Annual Report.

The Board members will be happy to answer questions and discuss planned giving programs tailored to your specific needs. Additionally, the Foundation’s investment advisors and legal counsel are available to help you with the specifics of trusts, annuities and bequests.

Please, if you haven’t done so already, return your donor card and a check to “The Alpha Rho Chi Foundation,” c/o R. Wayne Burford, 4042 Martinshire Drive, Houston, Texas 77025. Your contribution will help fund a legacy for years to come.

Chapters Serving the Community

Many of you may have heard of “Habitat for Humanity,” a non-profit organization which builds and renovates housing for low-income families who help during the construction phase, then purchase the homes, at cost, with interest-free loans. In the past few years, this organization has received some excellent press, both because of their success and because of their participants, including former president Jimmy Carter. Less well-known are the activities of the HFH Campus Chapters, college and university students who give up their free time to not only construct houses during the “Building Blitz,” but also to raise funds and collect donations for those homes during the rest of the year.

The Theron and Heracleides chapters of Alpha Rho Chi made a road trip the third weekend of September to Oklahoma City, to see Habitat on Page 5.
Five Foundation Programs Established

The Alpha Rho Chi Foundation was established by the membership of the Alpha Rho Chi Fraternity in 1989 "as a means to advance education and research directed toward the discovery, promotion, furtherance and dissemination of knowledge related to architecture and the allied arts."

In order to carry out that goal, five types of programs have been established by the Foundation:

1. Alpha Rho Chi Research Programs

The purpose of these programs is to support research, innovation, investigation, analysis, and evaluation of alternatives, methodologies and techniques in: (1) Architecture/Allied Arts Education; (2) Building Technology; (3) Advanced Building Materials; (4) Building Systems; and (5) Applied Research. The program was initiated in September 1990.

2. Alpha Rho Chi Endowment Programs

The purpose of these programs is the professional enrichment and/or educational advancement in the pursuit of design excellence in Architecture/Allied Arts. The program was initiated in September 1990.

3. Alpha Rho Chi Continuing Education Programs

The purpose of these programs is to promote and underwrite in whole or in part (with appropriate Foundation recognition) educational opportunities for graduate professionals in Architecture/Allied Arts. The program was initiated in November 1989 as part of the Foundation's organizing commitment.

4. The Alpha Rho Chi Foundation/John R. Ross Scholarship Program

The purpose of this program is to fund tuition and/or fees supporting undergraduate and/or postgraduate education at accredited schools of Architecture/Allied Arts in the United States. The program was initiated in November 1989 as part of the Foundation's organizing commitment. It was renamed in September 1990 in honor of the late John R. Ross, former national President of Alpha Rho Chi Fraternity and the first President of the Foundation.

5. The Alpha Rho Chi Foundation/Charles Burchard Professional Program

The purpose of this program is to support and underwrite, in whole or in part, outside professionals' participation and interaction at accredited schools of Architecture/Allied Arts in the United States. The program was initiated in November 1989 as part of the Foundation's organizing commitment. It was renamed in September 1990 to honor the late Charles Burchard, former President of Alpha Rho Chi Fraternity.

At the September 1990 meeting of the Foundation's Board, the directors finalized these programs and processes by which financial support may be petitioned. More detailed information and applications will be forwarded to all chapters and alumni associations or can be obtained from any Board member.

A nationally-known investment advisory firm has been retained by the Foundation to guide the formulation and administration of its investment strategies. A major goal of the Board is to preserve our limited capital and keep operating costs to a minimum. By maximizing the return on our investments, all programs will be primarily funded by interest and dividends.

CONVENTION ANNOUNCEMENT

Tentative dates have been set for the 1991 convention of Alpha Rho Chi Fraternity. They are: February 28–March 3, 1991.

The convention will be held at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, Arkansas and will be hosted by the Daphnis Chapter.

For more information, please contact Doug Hurley, president of the Daphnis Alumni Association.

He also is a licensed real estate salesman and home builder in New Jersey.

Charles L. Nickel

Mr. Nickel is an architect and interior designer with Space Design International in Cincinnati, Ohio. He received a Bachelor of Architecture from Ohio State University and a Bachelor of Science in Interior Design from University of Cincinnati. Mr. Nickel has served as designer on numerous award-winning projects and his work has been published in leading architectural and trade journals over the past 10 years. Mr. Nickel is currently national president of Alpha Rho Chi Fraternity and serves as an ex-officio member of the Foundation’s board.

David P. Evers

Mr. Evers is an environmental technology researcher at Battelle in Columbus, Ohio. He received a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering and a Master of Science in Interior Engineering from Ohio State University. Mr. Evers has a strong background in a number of engineering disciplines including, civil, sanitary, hydraulic and chemical. He has participated in studies dealing with decontamination of wastes released from biotechnology facilities, modification of the computer code of a microbial fate and transport model MICROBE SCREEN, and a number of waste minimization studies. Mr. Evers is currently national Treasurer of Alpha Rho Chi Fraternity and serves as an ex-officio member of the Foundation’s board.
Editor's note: WGA Chuck Nickel wanted to share this letter with all the brothers of APX. We will all miss John Ross and send our love and prayers to Betty and her family in the years ahead.

SLB.

July 4, 1990
Dear Chuck,
My family and I would like to thank you for your kind expressions of sympathy.
Your letter was very moving and it was clear that John has touched your life in the same special way as he had many others.
You were right to believe that the personal friendships and brotherhood he shared with the members of the Grand Council were the reasons he stayed "so long." It was obvious to me when he returned from the meetings, just how important Alpha Rho Chi and the special friendships were to him.
He especially enjoyed being with his young fraternity brothers (and, yes, he so enjoyed having a "brother" he could dance with). Their lively enthusiasm and the promise of their futures was so gratifying to him.
While there were many special times with APX, I think the high-light was the convention in Chicago. He proudly shared with me the book that you had presented to him, inscribed and signed by many.
I will treasure that now as a happy memory, one of the many of our life together.
Just know that John's spirit and love are with you still. Good luck and God bless you all.
With love and gratitude,
Betty Ross and family

PFA Issues Statement on Substance Abuse
The Professional Fraternity Association (PFA) and its individual member fraternities are dedicated to the promotion of professional competency and achievement within the various disciplines.
Substance abuse in any form, be it through the abuse of alcohol, drugs or other illegal or controlled substances, is an issue which plagues society. As such, it has an impact on college education, including professional fraternities, and cannot be condoned in any fashion. Thus, such abuse is unconditionally and unequivocally condemned by the Professional Fraternity Association.
The PFA also encourages its individual member fraternities to promote positive and responsible programs whereby members are educated about the problems inherent in substance abuse, its consequences and methods to help others. In addition, the PFA encourages its member fraternities to support college level education programs that discourage the irresponsible use of alcohol and drugs.
The PFA recognizes that drug and alcohol impairment programs are a positive way to help others and encourages its member fraternities to support and promote these programs.

From the PFA Convention:

The Value of the Professional Fraternity Association

I recently attended the Professional Fraternity Association Convention in Scottsdale, Arizona. It was my third time for representing Alpha Rho Chi and the renewal of friendships with other professional fraternity leaders was a truly valuable and enjoyable experience. The variety of informative speakers and workshops provided insights and opportunities to exchange ideas on common problems and goals. Topics covered include Individual Values and Ethics for Fraternity Members, Public Relations and Print Media, Substance Abuse Educational Programs, Improving Alumni Relations, Convention Planning and Video Presentations. As you can see the wealth of information presented at the convention made for an exciting agenda. The point was made to the attendees that we may have absorbed the knowledge but the real value of the Professional Fraternity Association was the free exchange of ideas and the ability to share the information gained with our memberships. So here are just a few highlights from my notes:

- One member can make or break a chapter; the professional fraternity member should hold values which demonstrate individual initiative and a capacity for intelligent human relations versus destructive values which violate human nature. “Your Fraternity has given you its name. Honor it and live up to its responsibility.”

- The public image of your fraternity must be consistent, correct and understandable. Everyone should be singing off the same song sheet. This also means we need to educate our chapters and memberships consistently about what is expected and enforce it or else the message becomes ineffective and ignored.

- The “Re-Entry” population of new college students 25 years and older entering college from the work force for self-betterment is a rising trend for the ‘90’s. This is an excellent opportunity for professional fraternities. We should approach these “new” students and help them to assimilate into the college experience. Emphasize lifetime benefits, a diverse culture of members including women and minorities, a commitment to the profession and school as well as strong historical traditions, fraternal bonds and relationships with practicing professional alumni.

- The PFA is developing an action plan for establishment of local professional fraternity councils, including a guide, registry of professional fraternities and a pilot program in ’91. Interdisciplinary professional fraternity councils could facilitate the exchange of ideas among professional student organizations and provide greater, more cohesive interaction with the university administration.

Alpha Rho Chi’s involvement as a charter member of PIC in 1928 and the PFA in 1977 shows our long-term commitment to promote high standards of competency and achievement within professionally-oriented fraternities. Through the exchange of ideas and the sharing of ideals, the value of the Professional Fraternity Association will continue to grow and expand our horizons.

help design and build three houses, from the ground up. (Theron sent 17 people, including a few of their rushees—talk about anxious!)

This was an excellent opportunity, and a real eye-opener, for the students to experience the building process first-hand. By the end of the first day, all three houses had roof-decking and siding, and one had plumbing, insulation and part of the electrical work done. Instant Gratification!

For the remainder of the school year, Theron is going a few steps further by working with “Carpenter’s Club,” an HFH affiliate that raises the funds to finance the construction phase of each house. Theron has challenged other school organizations to pledge $25.00 for each of four houses, a sum they will match in cash or labor (about 25 hours of work for each $100.00 pledge).

If your chapter would like to participate in Habitat for Humanity, contact the Theron or Heracleides chapters for information, names and addresses. This is definitely a worthy cause and a wonderful opportunity to work in construction, hands on!

APX BRIEFS

The Iktinos Alumni Association (especially Steve Janick) is happy (and sad) to announce the successful sale of their chapter house, with enough of a cash downpayment to pay for the repair and maintenance work required by the "overzealous inspectors" of Ann Arbor, the fines, legal costs, back taxes, realtor's commission and closing costs. There was even enough left over to start paying off their old debt to the "Iktinos Scholarship Fund" now known as "The University of Michigan Alpha Rho Chi Endowment Fund." This scholarship fund, begun over 25 years ago, will become an active funding source for all sorts of worthwhile projects, thanks to the land contract payments expected over the next few years. (Direct contributions to the fund are also welcome and encouraged!)

As frosting on the cake, we are also happy to announce that the warrant for Steve's arrest was withdrawn and all charges dropped when the code items were completed. Steve is especially relieved and wishes to thank members of the chapter who helped with those final items.

By the way, please note the new Iktinos chapter address on the Master Directory.

Iktinos alumna Amy (Owsley) Reineri is working on a history of the chapter...and doing an outstanding job, above and beyond any call of duty. Anyone wishing to contribute information, anecdotes and photos should write to her at: 7969 W. 163rd Court, Tinley Park, IL 60477. If you have not yet responded to her inquiries, please do so soon.

This year, for Halloween night, the Heracleides chapter participated in "Project Safe Treat," providing children with a safe place to "Trick or Treat" by escorting them through a pre-established route on the University campus.

In October and November, the chapter sponsored a canned food drive to benefit "Food and Shelter for Friends.

Heracleides will be joining the Rhoeus chapter in Lawrence, Kansas for a joint initiation in January. Any alumni in the area should contact one of these two chapters for details.

The brothers of Apollodorus Chapter would like to congratulate Professor Leland Shaw, an Anthemios alumnus, on his recent appointment as Acting Chairman of the Department of Architecture at the University of Florida. Professor Shaw has been at UF since 1964, showing complete dedication and professionalism within the field of architecture and architectural education.

In recent months, Professor Shaw has expressed an interest in working with the chapter to help strengthen and guide them into the future. We wish Brother Shaw and the chapter a long and gratifying relationship.

Brother Brendan Ellis, former Worthy Architect of Apollodorus Chapter, was awarded the Alpha Rho Chi medal at the University of Florida last April. Additionally, he was presented with an award from the College of Building Construction in recognition of his cooperation and hard work in promoting a stronger relationship between the departments of Architecture and BCN. Congratulations, Brendan!

The Andronicus Chapter is conducting a fundraising campaign so the house can be repainted in the spring. They are also working on a history of the chapter and the house. Any information would be appreciated. Please contact Guy Norred, Worthy Scribe, at (213) 745-8050 if you have material or favorite anecdotes.

The Demetrios Chapter made a road trip this fall to the Vitruvius Chapter in State College, PA to renew their old connections. On the way there, they stopped at Frank Lloyd Wright's Fallingwater residence located near Pittsburgh.

Metagenes—
The Metagenes Alumni Association, in conjunction with the VPI college of Architecture and Urban Studies, has created the APX/Charles Burchard Visiting Lecturer Endowment to honor the late Dean Charles Burchard. Tax-deductible contributions are needed and may be made payable to “The Virginia Tech Foundation” with a notation “APX/Burchard Endowment” and mailed to the Metagenes Alumni Association. If your company offers a matching gift program, appropriate forms should be included.

On September 19, the Metagenes Colony, in cooperation with the College of Architecture and Urban Studies, hosted a lecture by Peter Eisenman, attended by over 2,000 Virginia Tech students (including the entire School of Architecture) and faculty members. The Va. Tech Learning Resource Center videotaped the lecture, a copy of which the colony should be receiving in the near future—contact them regarding the possibilities of copying or borrowing this “original motion picture.”

Weddings and Engagements
Congratulations to David Evers (Demetrios ’86), WGE, and his bride, Julie Om, who were married on November 24, 1990 in Columbus, Ohio.

Congratulations to Apollodorus brother Gregg Sales and Camille Delgado who will be married on December 23, 1990 in Brandon, FL. Both are seniors in Architecture at the University of Florida. They will be honeymooning in Northern Georgia.

Congratulations are extended to Carol Mandell and Emil Muller of Heracleides on the happy event of their engagement (to each other). All loose ends are scheduled to be tied in March 1991.

We would like to congratulate Associate Archi Editor Mary Sudul (Vitruvius ’87) on the occasion of her engagement to Scott Roper, Esq. Publication date is set for June 29, 1991.

Congratulations to Worthy Grand Scribe J. Scott MacKay (Anthemios ’84) on his recent engagement to Dorothy O’Dea. A “C of O” should be forthcoming in November or December 1991.
