Where:

The Music Center at Strathmore
5301 Tuckerman Lane
North Bethesda, MD 20852

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra (BSO) inaugurated its new Music Center at Strathmore last February. Designed by William Rawn Associates Architects, Inc, with Grimm + Parker Architects as associate architects, lighting designers Fisher Marantz Stone, acousticians Kirkegaard Associates, and Theatre Project Consultants, the Concert Hall features state-of-the-art lighting and acoustics.

The tour will involve a comprehensive visit of the concert hall and education center, touching on architectural features of the building, and including a glimpse of the backstage areas.

$10 for IESNA and AIA
members

$15 Non-members

(Cost per person payable at door)

Guiding the visit will be Sue Hains, AIA , Associate at Grimm and Parker Architects as the Project Architect for the Music Center from Design thru Construction Administration. She holds 20 years of experience in the A&D community and has worked on another large scale concert facility, Bass Hall in Fort Worth, Texas.

Directions: Metro: immediately adjacent to the Grosvenor-Strathmore Metro station, on the Red Line
